GOVERNORS' POLICY STATEMENT ON CAREERS EDUCATION INFORMATION ADVICE AND GUIDANCE (CEIAG)

We believe CEIAG makes a vital contribution to preparing young people for the opportunities and responsibilities of adult life.

Entitlement

Students are entitled to CEIAG that:

- creates a positive climate of caring, support and guidance
- raises aspirations, foster self-esteem and motivate students to achieve their full potential
- promotes equality, diversity, social mobility and challenge stereotypes
- provides comprehensive, fully up-to-date information to alert students to the wide range of future opportunities open to them, and to support students in their thinking and decision-making
- empowers students to plan, access and manage their career choices and transitions
- promotes an understanding of key employability skills to achieve personal economic stability and wellbeing
- promotes opportunities for students to learn about the world of work

Equality of opportunity is central to all we do

The CCHSG CEIAG programme supports the School's Mission Statement.

Commitment

The School is committed to providing the fullest possible CEIAG programme for all of our students.

A carefully-structured programme of Careers Education and Guidance is in place for Years 7-13, generally delivered through the PSHCE programme.

The School employs an impartial, professional Careers Adviser at various times within the academic year, offering Careers Advice and Guidance to students from Years 8-13, in line with DfE statutory requirements for schools. (See Appendix I & II)

The School provides a very well-equipped Careers Library for all students, containing computers, a range of software, online and paper-based resources.

The School also provides off-timetable days for year groups to explore work-related learning issues.

The School sets aside an annual budget for the delivery of Careers Education and Guidance each academic year.

CCHSG considers the following principles for good practice when developing the strategy for delivering CEIAG:

- The eight Gatsby benchmarks:
 1. Ensuring a stable careers programme
 2. Learning from Careers and Labour market information
 3. Addressing the needs of each student
 4. Linking curriculum learning to careers
 5. Offering encounters with employers and employees
 6. Offering experiences of workplaces
 7. Offering encounters with Further Education organisations
 8. Providing independent and personal guidance

- To provide access to a range of activities that inspire young people, including employer talks, presentations regarding apprenticeships, careers fairs, motivational speakers, colleges and university visits, coaches and mentors.

- To build strong links with employers who can help to boost young people's attitudes and employability skills, inform students about the range of roles and opportunities available and help them understand how to make this a reality.

- To support students in finding high quality work experience.

- To widen access to advice on options available post-16, for example, apprenticeships, entrepreneurialism or other vocational routes alongside the more traditional A levels and university route.

- To provide face-to-face advice and guidance to build confidence and motivation. This includes consideration of the role that careers professionals can play in supporting students as one element of a varied careers programme.

- To work with local authorities to identify vulnerable young people, including those with special educational needs and those at risk of not participating post-16, and the services that are available to support them.

- To provide information to students about the financial support that may be available to help them stay in education post-16.

- To consciously work to prevent all forms of stereotyping in the advice and guidance they provide, to ensure that students from all backgrounds and diversity groups consider the widest possible range of careers, including those that are often portrayed as primarily for one or other of the sexes.

Areas of quality assurance that we take into consideration:

- The quality of the careers programme. CCHSG holds and continually seeks reaccreditation of a national quality award for CEIAG. The programme is reviewed using the Gatsby Benchmarks.
- The quality of independent careers providers
- The quality of careers professionals working in the school.

The impact of the careers programme is measured by the analysis of:

- destination data
- feedback from students, parents, teachers and employers.
